EFCA Crisis Response
HURRICANE HARVEY

June 23–29, 2019

About Crisis Response

A crisis doesn't go away once attention turns elsewhere. In fact, for many, the struggle to recover from a disaster can take months or years. Some individuals, families and communities hit hard by a disaster may need more time and specialized assistance to recover and deal with complex restoration or rebuilding challenges. In the context of crisis, and the ensuing disruption of the normalcy of life, people seek answers. Victims want to know why. Why did this happen? Why now? Why me? What next? How do I cope?

Mission Strategy

In this context, this season of disruption, people are naturally open to relationships that express God's love and communicate God's Word. Developing relationships that allow the body of Christ to express the Great Commandment and the Great Commission is a primary value for ReachGlobal, whatever the context, whatever the crisis. When ReachGlobal responds to crises, we seek ministry opportunities which allow our local partners and us, if needed, to engage relationally with victims for long term kingdom impact. Riverstone Church has decided to partner with EFCA Crisis Response in meeting the physical and spiritual needs of those in crisis with the love and hope of the gospel.
